Joint Parish Pastoral Council The nominations are beginning to come in, but we are extending the deadline for another couple of weeks to give people a little more time to reflect. If there are more nominations than places on the council, then we will have elections in those churches. As the end of school term approaches and people are already going on holidays, I have decided to postpone elections until September. Schools start back around the 4th September, which would suggest the weekend of the 8th but some of us will be in Adremus in Liverpool. This will mean we will have the elections on the weekend of the 15th September. Please do keep this project in your prayers as it is essential that we form such structures to enable the growth of our parishes at a time where there will be less priests available in the near future. Two priests are being ordained for the diocese this year but there are 12 priests retiring. We do need to explore new ways of running our parishes so that we can prepare for growth rather than decline.

Many thanks to our teachers in all four of our schools for preparing the pupils for the Solemnity of SS Peter and Paul on Friday. For the first time, the pupils of St Edmunds were walked through the streets to celebrate Mass at St Michael's. It was a great joy to fill the church with our young people. Please keep them in your prayers.
